Sylvangatan 6: 4 layout options

Four ways to set up the main room, each with a different table. The sleeping alcove is the same in all four, with the bed turned around.

1. Round café table + separate desk

2. Drop-leaf table as desk + reading corner

3. One long table for work and dinner

4. Window-seat nook

Option	Table to buy now	New (SEK)	Seats	Desk	Corner by the hall
1 Round + desk	Round Ø 75–80	800–2,500	2–3	Separate desk	Desk + shelves
2 Drop-leaf	Drop-leaf ~90 (opens to 130)	700–2,000	4	The table is the desk	Armchair + floor lamp
3 Long table	140 × 70	1,000–3,000	4–5	One end of the table	Tall bookcase, 3-seat sofa
4 Window nook	Round Ø 70 + L-bench	600–2,000 + bench	3–4	Separate desk	Desk + shelves

Quick pick. If you'll often work from home, choose 1 or 4, so your desk can stay set up. If you mostly work at KI and want the most space, choose 2. If you like having friends over for dinner, choose 3. All four keep the same living area: sofa, gallery wall, rug, low shelf and big plant.

Option 1: Round café table + separate desk

A round table by the window for meals, plus a small desk in the corner, so your work can stay set up.

1. Sofa, 2-seater (~160 cm)
2. Coffee table, round Ø55
3. Vintage rug ~130×190
4. Low shelf under the window
5. Big plant
6. Small desk ~75×45
7. Your work chair
8. Bookshelf between the windows
9. Round table Ø80
10. Cane chairs (2)
11. Bed 105×200 (head by the doorway wall)
12. Shelf above the headboard + lamp
13. Small checked rug
14. Basket at the foot of the bed
15. Clothes rail in the niche
16. Hall: mirror, bench, hooks
17. Hall runner rug

Buy now: Round table Ø 75–80 cm, about 800–2,500 SEK new, plus the bed. Seats: 2–3 (+ your work chair). Dark numbers = buy right away.

Good for

- Work and meals stay separate: no clearing the laptop away for dinner
- A round table is easy to walk around in a narrow room
- Cosy café feel by the window

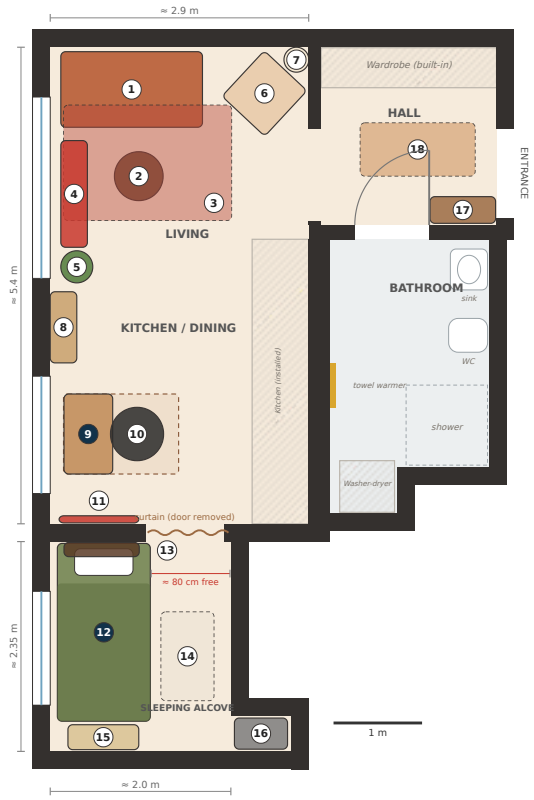

Watch out

- Two tables in total (the desk can come later, second-hand)
- Seats only 2–3 for dinner

Option 2: Drop-leaf table as desk + reading corner

A drop-leaf (gateleg) table under the window is your desk every day, with the best daylight. Lift the leaf and it seats 4; two folding chairs hang on the wall. The corner by the hall gets a vintage armchair and a floor lamp.

1. Sofa, 2-seater (~160 cm)
2. Coffee table, round Ø55
3. Vintage rug ~130×190
4. Low shelf under the window
5. Big plant
6. Vintage armchair
7. Floor lamp
8. Bookshelf between the windows
9. Drop-leaf table ~90 cm (dashed = opened)
10. Your work chair
11. 2 folding chairs on wall hooks
12. Bed 105×200 (head by the doorway wall)
13. Shelf above the headboard + lamp
14. Small checked rug
15. Basket at the foot of the bed
16. Clothes rail in the niche
17. Hall: mirror, bench, hooks
18. Hall runner rug

Buy now: Drop-leaf table ~90 cm (opens to about 90 × 130), about 700–2,000 SEK new, plus the bed. Seats: 4 when opened. Dark numbers = buy right away.

Good for

- The most free floor space
- Only one table to buy, and they are very common second-hand
- A real reading corner with an armchair

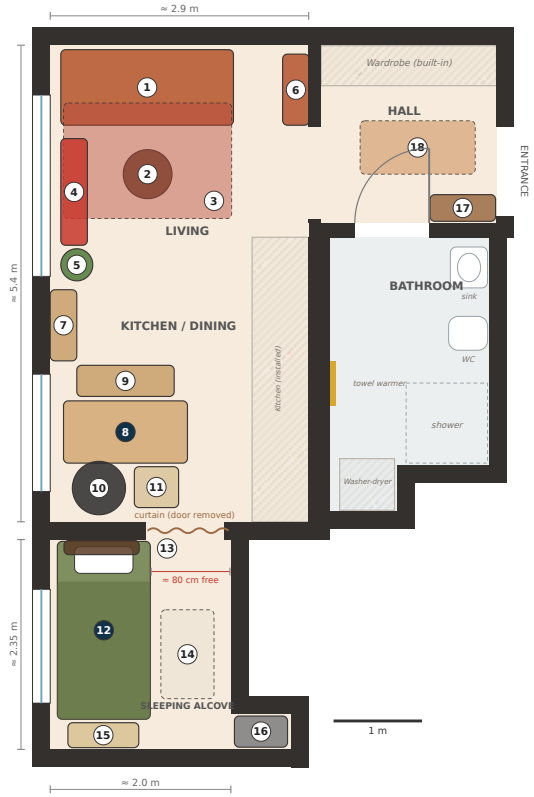

Watch out

- You clear your work away before dinner
- Folding chairs are less comfortable for long dinners
- The table stands in front of the radiator

Option 3: One long table for work and dinner

One big table (140 × 70) runs out from the window. One end is your work spot, and it seats 4–5 with a bench on the far side. With no desk, the corner gets a tall bookcase and the sofa can be a 3-seater.

1. Sofa, 3-seater (~195 cm)
2. Coffee table, round Ø55
3. Vintage rug ~130×190
4. Low shelf under the window
5. Big plant
6. Tall bookcase ~80 cm
7. Bookshelf between the windows
8. Long table 140×70
9. Bench 110 cm
10. Your work chair
11. Cane chair
12. Bed 105×200 (head by the doorway wall)
13. Shelf above the headboard + lamp
14. Small checked rug
15. Basket at the foot of the bed
16. Clothes rail in the niche
17. Hall: mirror, bench, hooks
18. Hall runner rug

Buy now: Table 140 × 70 cm (bench later, second-hand), about 1,000–3,000 SEK new, plus the bed. Seats: 4–5. Dark numbers = buy right away.

Good for

- Lots of space to spread out work
- Best for having friends over
- Room for a bigger 3-seat sofa and a tall bookcase

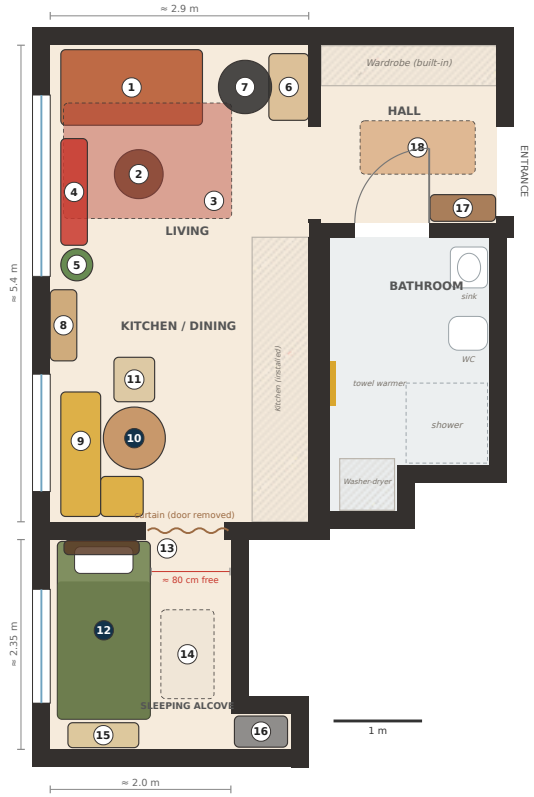

Watch out

- The table dominates the room
- About 70 cm walkway to the kitchen
- Work and meals share one surface

Option 4: Window-seat nook

An L-shaped bench under the window and a small round table (Ø 70) make a cosy booth, like the corner bench in your photos. The desk stays in the corner.

1. Sofa, 2-seater (~160 cm)
2. Coffee table, round Ø55
3. Vintage rug ~130×190
4. Low shelf under the window
5. Big plant
6. Small desk ~75×45
7. Your work chair
8. Bookshelf between the windows
9. L-shaped window bench
10. Round table Ø70
11. Cane chair
12. Bed 105×200 (head by the doorway wall)
13. Shelf above the headboard + lamp
14. Small checked rug
15. Basket at the foot of the bed
16. Clothes rail in the niche
17. Hall: mirror, bench, hooks
18. Hall runner rug

Buy now: Round table Ø 70 cm (bench later), about 600–2,000 + bench ~1,000–3,000 SEK new, plus the bed. Seats: 3–4. Dark numbers = buy right away.

Good for

- The cosiest look, closest to your inspiration photos
- Storage inside the benches
- Keeps the middle of the room open and keeps the desk

Watch out

- The bench sits in front of the radiator, so choose one with an open front so heat gets out
- The most work to set up and to take with you when you move
- Ask the landlord before fixing anything to the walls

The sleeping alcove: bed turned around

Same in all four options: the head of the bed is now against the inner wall by the doorway, and your feet point to the end wall. From bed you look towards the window side and the art.

Seen from the far end of the alcove: shelf above the headboard, curtain in the doorway, and the dining area beyond.

The door has to go. With the head at the doorway wall, the alcove door can't swing open past the bed. Take the door off (ask Birger Bostad, store it and rehang it when you move out) and hang a linen curtain instead.

Bed size

- 105×200 (shown) leaves about 80 cm to walk into the alcove.
- 120×200 also fits, but leaves only about 65 cm, and the headboard sticks about 20 cm into the doorway.
- Turning the bed sideways doesn't work, because the alcove (~2.0 m) is as wide as the bed is long.
- A 105 cm bed and mattress cost roughly 10–20% less than 120 cm.

Making it work

- There's no room for a bedside table at the head, so use a shelf above the headboard for a lamp, book and phone. A plug-in wall lamp also works.
- A basket at the foot for extra bedding, the clothes rail in the niche, and a small checked rug.
- Art above the headboard and on the end wall, plus a hanging plant in the window.
